AFCA Reviews Transportation Projects

by John Naland

Briefings by Arlington County officials on two major neighborhood transportation projects are at the top of the agenda for the Wednesday, February 15 AFCA meeting. Please note this month's meeting will be held at the Culpepper Gardens Senior Center instead of the usual Barrett School location (due to a scheduling conflict). Please enter via Culpepper Gardens' main entrance (where the information desk is located). The meeting will start promptly at 7 PM.

Carlin Springs Bridge Project

County transportation engineer Richard Viola will brief residents on the reconstruction of the N. Carlin Springs Bridge over N. George Mason which is set to begin by early next year. The project will keep the four vehicle lanes while adding dedicated bike lanes and widening the sidewalks. To fit it all in, the current design calls for widening the bridge by four feet, narrowing the vehicle lanes, and removing the central median. The project will also add upgraded safety features including pedestrian safety lighting under and above the bridge, new approach guardrails, and improved signage.

Structural upgrades will include concrete support structures repair and replacement, high-performance concrete bridge decking, and new bridge railings.

Mr. Viola will discuss those plans and solicit residents' questions and comments. Those comments will likely include questions about the planned removal of the central median and about what can be done to mitigate the near impassability of bridge sidewalks after a snowfall due to County plows piling snow from the street onto the sidewalks. Prior to the meeting, interested residents are encouraged to review the information on the project (including a design sketch) on the County website (search "Carlin Springs Bridge").

Route 50 and Park Drive Project

Following the bridge project discussion, Christine Simpson of the County's Department of Environmental Services will brief residents on the design plan for the Arlington Boulevard and Park Drive intersection safety improvements. The project will reduce speeding and the incidence of collisions and will create better access and

It took over a year of advocacy, study, and construction, but important safety upgrades have now been completed at the intersection of Route 50 and S. Columbus St. The effort began at the September 2010 AFCA meeting when Southside resident Lilli Tnaib and a delegation of concerned neighbors briefed AFCA on problems associated with non-resident traffic exiting Arlington Blvd. at S. Columbus to use the service road as an alternate thoroughfare to avoid Route 50 congestion.

The project took numerous twists and turns as it worked its way through consideration by Arlington County and the Virginia Department of Transportation, but a design was eventually approved and

Letter to the Editor

Thank you for remembering Pauline Cohen and her husband in the January Forester. The influence of Jack's Deli on the formative years of children that grew up in Arlington Forest cannot be underestimated. As a child of the Forest in the 1970s and 1980s we grew up riding our bikes or walking through the woods to the deli. We would play pinball games in the former laundromat or video games in the former 7-11 in the shopping center but we would always buy our food or sandwiches from Jacks. Their sandwiches were outstanding. Older kids would drive from W&L to Jacks for lunch. I was always impressed when Jack would take the back of a brown paper bag, write the amount for each item on the bag, and add it up by hand on the back of the bag. He did this until the day they closed in 1984. They knew their customers well and treated them regardless of age. Delis like this no longer exist in most regions of America but will stay fresh in our memories for a lifetime.

Best Regards,
Bob Glover (former Forester)

installation was finished last month. As shown in the photographs at right, the project added a new median with signage alerting traffic to slow down for the median. The median forces east-bound cars to slow in order to make a sharp right-hand turn onto S. Columbus and thus stops those cars from swerving diagonally at high speed across the S. Columbus intersection onto the service road. Additionally, the project added painted lines on the pavement.

"Since the project was completed, I can definitely see less traffic entering the neighborhood from Arlington Boulevard. It seems the median acts as a deterrent to non-residents to use the road as a shortcut and we have less fast traffic on our street," said project-originator Lilli Tnaib.

This project is a good example of how energized residents, with AFCA backing, can achieve permanent improvements in our neighborhood.

crossings for pedestrians, transit users, cyclists and those travelling on the shared-use paths parallel to Arlington Boulevard. The design for the intersection features new sidewalks and crosswalks, curb and gutter, upgraded signals and pedestrian call buttons, accessible ramps and new trees.

Ms. Simpson will present the 75 percent finalized design as amended based on community input that she received at the November 16, 2011 AFCA meeting. She will solicit final community input and support so that County staff can develop the construction documents. Prior to the meeting, interested residents are encouraged to review the information on the project (including a design sketch) on the County website (search "Park Drive intersection"). Construction is expected to begin in late summer.

Other Topics

No other action items are on the agenda of the busy February AFCA meeting, but the floor is always open for residents to raise new issues. Two other transportation improvements are not on the agenda, but are detailed elsewhere in this newsletter: the just-completed safety improvements at S. # AFCA Homeowner's Manual

by Tom Smialowicz

As we all know, Arlington Forest homes have a lot of "character". However, that character can sometimes turn into frustration as we try to understand how our 70+ year-old homes were designed and built. The first time you tried to hang a picture on the wall and it crumbled with you saying, "Wait, this isn't drywall?" It's not like you can just go online and pull up the builder's website. You can't just "Google-it", or can you...?

Twenty-five years ago, a group of residents as part of an AFCA Housing Committee decide to create a Homeowner's Manual to stimulate interest and encourage property maintenance to sustain the value and appearance of our homes. Since the homes in Arlington Forest were all basically of the same design and construction, a manual would apply to almost everyone.

Information was collected from homeowners familiar with the house structures and from professionals who worked on them. Homeowners learned tricks and tips and wanted to share their experiences to eliminate pain points for others. The Committee intended for the manual to acquaint each homeowner with their home, so the right questions could be asked when problems occur.

The manual was not meant to be an exhaustive guide to all home repair problems, but it contains some useful information. It discusses the structural elements of our homes and potential repair options for foundations, cracks in plaster surfaces, heating and cooling, basement leaks, roof/attic and sheds. It also highlights some of the challenges with the original home design not being very energy efficient, focusing on insulation in the walls and attic and of course, windows – all huge energy drains.

With all of our mature trees, getting our landscaping to look good requires some tips and tricks. The manual describes the soil composition and offers some help for shrub and tree care – it even includes some gardening suggestions of what to do at different times of the year.

Long-time Arlington Forest Historian Elroy Nieweg (who contributed to the 1987 Manual) ensured that it was preserved. It has now been posted on the updated AFCA website <www.arlingtonforestva.org> under the neighborhood section - so check it out! Some of the material may not be current, but it does provide helpful insights our homes. Hope this helps you continue to maintain your Arlington Forest home with pride.

Amphitheater Update

By John Naland

Plans for the summer 2012 season at the newly-renovated Lubber Run Amphitheater are taking shape. Performances will begin on Friday evening, June 15 and will run through the first weekend in August. The County is working to fill the 2012 summer season program with musical acts of the same high caliber as were presented last season and expects to bring back some of last year's most popular acts as well as bringing in new performers. The County is also planning to include some Sunday afternoon performances for families with younger children. The final schedule should be announced by April and will, of course, be published in this newsletter and will be widely publicized elsewhere.

In terms of the physical venue, the County has agreed to replace the two bottom retaining walls and to refurbish the dressing rooms by summer. Reopening the dressing rooms will facilitate costume changes and will thus allow a broader type of entertainment. These welcome improvements reflect the County's continuing commitment to the Lubber Run Amphitheater.

The Lubber Run Amphitheater Foundation continues to welcome suggestions and ideas for programming at the amphitheater. Send your ideas, suggestions, questions and comments to email address here: lubberrunamphitheater@gmail.com. You can keep up with amphitheater news and activities on Facebook. You can make a tax-deductible donation to help fund the amphitheater's 2012 season by sending a check made out to the Arlington Community Foundation with "Lubber Run Amphitheater Fund" on the memo line to the Arlington Community Foundation, 818 North Quincy Street, Arlington, VA 22203.

Arlington Forest residents and arts lovers across the County achieved a major success over the past two years in successfully advocating for the renovation and reopening of the Lubber Run Amphitheater. Both the County's newsletter and the Arlington Sun Gazette noted it as one of the top news items in Arlington in 2011. Large audiences turned out for most of last summer's performances and had a great time. We want to keep that high-level of patronage going to demonstrate the continuing importance of this unique open-air arts performance venue.

Dear Neighborhood Friends,

Gloria Padilla and Bobby Jones have been cleaning our house on South Park Drive every other week for the past 17 years! They work very hard and charge reasonable prices. They clean everything thoroughly. They take initiative and have done things that we didn't even realize needed done. Gloria delights in keeping my poor, neglected house plants thriving and Bobby even makes sure that all of the window sills are spotless! They are totally responsible and ALWAYS show up even in big snow storms! They are wonderful people—always pleasant and friendly. In many ways they are like family to us.

In 1995 when they first started to come, they were part of a small cleaning company. When the company turned to commercial work rather than domestic cleaning, they decided to form their own company which they named Shadaii. They are a real success story and up until these last couple of years they were doing quite well. Unfortunately, due to these tough economic times several of their long time clients have decided that this is a service that unfortunately they can no longer afford.

So, if you have been thinking about getting some help with house cleaning, we highly recommend Gloria Padilla and Bobby Jones.

Park Enhancement Grants: On January 21, the County Board approved a $14,888 grant to improve the trailhead at the foot of N. Greenbrier/N. Granada (as detailed in last month's newsletter). Work should start by spring. As part of the same grant competition, the County also funded an $11,539 nature-oriented child's play area at Long Branch Nature Center along with invasive plant removal there. Congratulations to the nature center staff and the Glen Carlyn neighborhood residents who proposed that project. In announcing the grants, County Board Chair Mary Hughes Hynes said "Parks are vital to the health and well-being of our children and our community. Through the Parks Enhancement Grants program, recommendations for improving and beautifying neighborhood parks come from the ground-up – from the folks who live near them, use them, and know how they can be made better."

Lubber Run Community Center: Friday Fun Nights at the Lubber Run Community Center are a great way to connect with your family and have a great time. Weekly drop-in activities include: wireless internet, computer access, pool table, ping pong, foosball, dominos, chess, checkers and assorted board games. All are available from 6 to 10 PM every Friday night. Upcoming special events include: February 24-Latin Dance Moves and March 9-Cosmic Bowling. For more information, contact Kimberly Baldini, 703-228-4742 or kbaldini@arlingtonva.us

Clean Curb, Clean River: During cold winter months, many residents dash out to their front lawns to collect the newspaper or bring in the trash cans and then quickly retreat inside. But when making those short winter visits outside, please stop to pick up any trash in the street in front of your house. Plastics and other trash left along the curb will eventually be carried by rainwater into the storm drain and, from there, into Four Mile Run, the Potomac River, and the Chesapeake Bay.

Bike Arlington: The Safeway on Wilson near George Mason and the Harris Teeter on Glebe near Ballston Mall are two Arlington grocery stores highlighted in the County's BikeArlington initiative to encourage healthy and non-polluting shopping by bike. See their Ultimate Arlington Grocery Store Bike Parking Guide at BikeArlington.com/Grocery. In nice weather, Greenbrier Section residents might consider walking to the Safeway along the pretty Bluemont Bike-Hike Trail that runs behind the Arlington Forest Club.

Trash and Recycling: A recent report on recycling in Virginia listed Arlington County as falling below the statewide average in recycling rates. That disappointing result should encourage Arlington residents to redouble efforts to recycle paper, plastic, metals, glass, yard refuse, and other items. For a listing of what may be recycled, see the newly redesigned Trash and Recycling section of the County website.

Route 50 and Courthouse Road: Look for big changes at the dangerous Courthouse Road interchange with Route 50 starting this spring. A two-year construction project will redesign the interchange. Beginning mid-May, drivers can expect up to two of three lanes in each direction on Route 50 to be closed weeknights from 9 PM to 5 AM. For details, see the Virginia Department of Transportation website at www.virginiadot.org

Emergency Preparedness Training: Residents who are at least 18 years old (16 and 17 if accompanied by an adult) are invited to participate in Community Emergency Response Training (CERT) sponsored by Arlington County. The eight-session, 26-hour course covers disaster preparedness, disaster medical operations, fire suppression, utility shut-off, and light search and rescue. Two courses, each meeting six weeknights and two Saturday mornings, begin in March and conclude in April. To-date, over 525 County residents have completed this training. Advance registration is required. Contact ArlingtonCERT@aol.com for details.

Neighborhood Cleanup in April

by John Naland

Mark your calendar for Saturday morning, April 21, for the second annual Arlington Forest Spring Cleanup.

At last year's inaugural event, 125 Arlington Forest residents came out to clean up six sites: Lubber Run Park, the trail below the N. Edison playground, the buffer strip on the southside of Route 50, Four Mile Run at the foot of N. Granada, Four Mile Run at the foot of S. Park, and the N. 2nd Street traffic circles. The volunteers gathered up mounds of trash, debris, and invasive plants for the County to haul away. Afterwards, the County's parks maintenance supervisor sent a message saying "We appreciate and value the energy and the effort shown by the Arlington Forest community to commit time to demonstrate stewardship of our natural resources."

Appropriately enough, this year's cleanup will be on Earth Day weekend. So, please plan to join in this effort if you enjoy walking, jogging, or biking in our local parks; if you have children who you want to learn to care about the environment; if you want to benefit from some light exercise in the fresh spring air; if you want to meet new neighbors; if you want to help protect the Chesapeake Bay watershed; and/or if you want to keep our neighborhood's property values up.

To make this event a success, we are looking now for one or two volunteers to step forward to serve as cleanup day coordinators at each of the sites. Duties will only consist of keeping the other volunteers generally pointed in the right direction on cleanup day.

We already have coordinators for the Route 50 southside buffer strip, the N 2nd Street traffic circles, and the N. Granada/N. Greenbrier trailhead area. Other areas that could be cleaned up on April 21 if volunteer coordinators step forward in advance are: upper Lubber Run Park streambed (meeting at the amphitheater), lower Lubber Run Park streambed (meeting at the N. Edison playground), the Route 50 northside buffer strip, and Four Mile Run at the foot of S. Park. For more information or to volunteer to be a site coordinator, contact John Naland at nalandfamily@yahoo.com.

Finally, parents with children at Barcroft or Barrett elementary schools might ask the PTA or school administration if neighbors in that district could do some gardening or other grounds maintenance at the school that day.

How's the Market?

Our local real market area in most sectors is currently experiencing a low housing inventory with plenty of buyers wanting to take advantage of historically low interest rates.

The momentum from the surge in sales activity from November and December has created a seller's market in most locations. Home buyers and investors need a good buyer's agent to help them pilot through the maze of negotiating contracts, inspections, title and finance issues, HOA and condo rules and more.

There was "organic growth" in 2011 while the overall inventory was down 22% compared to housing levels in 2010 and prices were even in December 2011 and 2010. Pending sales in 12/11 were up 13.5% compared to 12/10. Predictions are that the 2012 spring market will be positive and January traffic levels and pending contracts are pointing towards that.

What is a CDPE?

A Certified Distressed Property Expert® has a thorough understanding of complex issues in today's turbulent real estate industry and knowledge of foreclosure avoidance options available to homeowners. CDPEs can provide solutions, specifically short sales, for homeowners facing market hardships.

Homeowners often proceed without much guidance through the often financially and emotionally devastating prospect of foreclosure. Speaking with a well-informed real estate professional is the best course of action for owners in distress. Through comprehensive training and experience, CDPEs have the tools to help homeowners find solutions for their situations and to avoid foreclosure through the efficient execution of a short sale. I have recently been awarded the CDPE certification and can help anyone you might know who is in a distress.
